

Lynn McKinney Biography

I have had the privilege of serving in public education for 33 years, and am excited about starting my 29th year in Aledo. I have worked in the Houston, Austin and Aledo school districts as a teacher and reading specialist. My administrative career began in Aledo, and has included campus and district level positions.

My family is fully invested in AISD as my husband Randal is a high-school teacher, and both of our sons – Jarrett, class of 2003, and Logan, Class of 2012 – attended Aledo schools since kindergarten. This is an incredible community; one we are proud to be a part of and serve. The many organizations such as our schools, churches, PTO, Center of Hope and AdvoCats are examples of how the Aledo community works together to serve our children and neighbors.

In my free time, I enjoy relaxing at home with my family, walking and reading.
